Childhood Friends

Prose

My work is a short story on the intro to my planned comic book featuring main characters, Bill Walker, Alisha Walker, and Yainna Madison. Bill and Alisha are siblings that had a hard time fitting in at grade school but eventually met Yainna and became friends with her. What starts off as a normal friendship turns into a potential conflict later in the story that will lead to many more interesting things the main characters must face in the future. The story also ends on a mystery that will be very enjoyable. This relates to the theme of conveying my artistic vision through a short story meant to test the waters of what my actual comic storyline would look like.
