

Johanna Peralta

Spread Your Wings And Fly

Acrylic on Canvas

I can say that nobody has it easy in the year 2020. We all experienced things and we all went through a lot. 2020 wasn't like any other year for me. I learned a lot, not only about the world but about myself too. I went through a lot of emotions but I didn't let them get a hold of me. You shouldn't either. That is what this piece is about. We all have emotions. We can face them; we can feel them but let's not become our feelings. You just have to get through it. You can do it. Spread your wings and fly.

IG: @artscvm