Gigi

Graphite on Paper

This drawing is of best friend Gigi. During the summer of 2020, I basically lived with her and her family. Staying with her allowed me to have fun even though I was at a bad point in my life, and I have no ideas what I would've done for all that time without her. We'd wake up late, swim, all day, make good food, have adventures, party, and stay up all night. It's been about six years since I met her as well, so she and her family mean the world to me.
