

Quetzali Lopez-Dorantes

Grade 8 - K.O. Knudson Academy of Art Middle School

Dance, Cry, and Enjoy

Mixed Media on Paper

This painting represents the type of music that got me through the pandemic. During the pandemic shutdown music was a vital thing in my life. It was something that helped me distract myself from the problems that were happening around the world. Music was something I could dance, cry, and enjoy. For example, many times there was just silence around me, with nothing else to do but music, it was something that filled the silence.